Service and Administrative Roles

2023–present Internship Coordinator, Digital Arts and Design Program, Dakota State University.
I manage each internship from a student's first question through application review, faculty and supervisor approval, registration, and end-of-semester presentation; since 2024–25 I have also supported English internships.

2022–present Faculty Advisor, DSU Live Student Club, Dakota State University.
I advise the student club DSU Live, manage paperwork for student compensation, and report on General Activity Fee (GAF) spending to the GAF Committee.

2024–present Member, Undergraduate Curriculum Committee, Dakota State University.
I review and evaluate course and program proposals to ensure curricular quality, coherence, and alignment with institutional standards.

2024–present Supervisor, Recording Studio Manager Position, Digital Sound Design, Dakota State University.
I established this paid student position in January 2024, working with Career Services and Human Resources to recruit, hire, and onboard the first employee. I supervise the studio manager and a second student worker, direct infrastructure projects such as rewiring and signal-flow documentation, and reposted and onboarded a successor in Fall 2025.

2021–present Digital Sound Design Faculty Presenter, Recruitment and Outreach, Dakota State University.
Designated program presenter for Program Preview Day and Digital Design and Content Creation Day. Earlier outreach included individual meetings with prospective students, a DAD Expo Day lesson, and presentations to middle-school groups through Promising Futures and Dakota Dreams.

2025 Member, Music Appreciation Adjunct Instructor Search, Dakota State University.
I reviewed applicants in December 2025 and developed discipline-specific interview questions about engaging non-majors and assessing learning inclusively.

2025–26 Member, Human–Computer Interaction Degree Development Committee, Dakota State University.
Contributed design and UX expertise to curriculum planning, course selection and development, program outcomes, and final review; represented Arts & Sciences during Curriculum Committee consideration of the proposal.

2023–present Digital Sound Design Lead and Technical Curator, DAD@MAAC Student Exhibitions, Madison Area Arts Council.
Recruited and advised student exhibitors and coordinated sound and other time-based media across five exhibitions since Fall 2023. In 2025–26 I reviewed submissions and coordinated public playback, film, game, and live-DJ presentation systems for two exhibitions; the spring event drew approximately 70 attendees.

2026 Recording Facilities Development, Digital Sound Design, Dakota State University.
Secured approval and coordinated procurement and compatibility review for a matched pair of Austrian Audio CC8 microphones and a Rycote ORTF windshield system supporting stereo, field, and film-sound production.

2022–2025 Program Assessment and Curriculum Revision, Digital Arts and Design, Dakota State University.
Revised the Digital Sound Design program learning outcomes and updated the Audio Production Minor requirements to match available courses (2022–23), participated in Digital Arts and Design program assessment (2023–24), and completed Digital Sound Design assessment rubrics (2024–25).

2021–22 Chair, Emergency Search Committee, Director of Music, Dakota State University.
Chaired the successful emergency search for the Director of Music during my first year at DSU, managing candidate review, interviews, and the hiring recommendation.

2022–2024 Member, Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion (EDI) Committee, Dakota State University.
I worked with the EDI Committee to foster a more inclusive environment within the College of Arts and Sciences.

2021–2023 Member, Implementation Council, Dakota State University.

Participated in meetings and presentations on DSU's strategic plan, contributing to discussions and gaining insights into university governance.
